Health symptoms commonly reported near shale gas development:

- Sleep disturbance
- Headache
- Nose or throat irritation
- Stress/anxiety
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Sinus problem
- Fatigue
- Eye or skin irritation
- Rash

Call your health care provider if condition persists or worsens.

Fracking Impacts: HEALTH RESOURCES

Call 911 if there is an emergency requiring immediate local police, fire, or emergency medical services

Pennsylvania Department of Health, Bureau of Epidemiology
717-787-3350 | 8AM - 4PM, M-F
env.health.concern@pa.gov

Call to report a public health concern

Southwest PA Environmental Health Project
2001 Waterdown Plaza Drive, Ste. 201, McMurray, PA 15317
724-260-5504 | 8:30AM - 4:30PM, M-F

Provides free health assessments and air and water monitoring

My local resources:
Environmental conditions near shale gas development to report:

- Changes in the air quality in and around your home, such as odors or fumes
- Changes in water quality such as odors, tastes, or color
- When reporting on the above, note any changes in industrial activities

Call 911 if there is an emergency requiring immediate local police, fire, or emergency medical services

Fracking Impacts: ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCES

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Natural Gas Drilling Tip Line
877-919-4372 | eyesondrilling@epa.gov

Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Southwest Region
412-442-4000 | 24 hr/day

U.S. Dept. of Labor, Occupational Safety & Health Admin. (OSHA)

National Response Center – report releases into the environment
800-424-8802 | 202-267-2675 | 24 hr/day

My local resources: